Objectives and Investment policy

Objectives: to over time generate a risk adjusted return with an annual volatility objective equivalent to 20 to 40 per cent. The objective is to, over time, surpass the return of the global stock market. The portfolio management is not managed directly by a pre-determined level of standard deviation.

Investment policy: The fund is an actively managed hedge fund with focus on the technology, media and entertainment, consumer goods and consumer services industries. The investments can be concentrated to a few sectors and regions. Over time the fund will concentrate its investments towards Gaming- and iGaming Companies within the above sectors.

The fund’s investment policy is to be a so-called “long short hedge fund”, meaning that the fund takes both long and short positions in equities, to generate returns and hedge market risks. The fund will, over time be long-biased as it focuses on sectors with strong underlying structural growth. The assets of the fund can be placed in transferable securities, money market instruments, derivative financial instruments, fund units and be deposited with a credit institution. Transferable securities refer to equity and other equity-related transferable securities. The fund’s investments can be concentrated to a few sectors and regions. The fund strives to, at all times, have between 10 to 25 different holdings in the portfolio. The fund has no geographical investment restrictions but should be considered a global fund with a focus on the Nordic region and Europe.

The fund does not pay dividends, all income is reinvested in the fund. Subscriptions and redemptions of fund units can normally be made on the last banking day in Sweden each month. The minimum amount for the first subscription is EUR 2,500,000.

Risk and reward profile

About the indicator: The risk and reward indicator does not constitute a measure of risk of capital loss but shows the relationship between the possible risk and reward when investing in the fund. The indicator is based on how the fund has performed over the last five years. Since the fund is newly started, the categorization has been estimated on the basis of a model portfolio representing the intended composition of the fund.

The investments of the fund: This fund belongs to category 6, means that the fund is subject to higher risk in respect of rises and falls in value. Category 1 does not mean that the fund is risk-free. The risk indicator scale with the seven categories is complex, for example, risk category 2 does not involve double the risk of category 1. Over time, the fund may change risk category and move both to the right and to the left of the scale. This is because the indicator is based on historical data that is not a guarantee of future risk / return. The stock market is generally characterized by high risk, but also by the possibility of high returns.

Material risks not displayed by the risk indicator:

Currency risk: The fund has mandate to invest assets in other currencies than its base currency, NOK. The fund will therefore be exposed to corresponding currency risks and the unit value of the fund is affected by currency fluctuations.

Concentration risk: By the possibility of investing up to 20 per cent of the funds value in a single holding, the fund is exposed to a substantial potential concentration-specific risk. There is also industry-specific risk given the industries in which the fund invests.

Liquidity risk: means the risk for not being able to close or reduce positions in financial instruments at a reasonable cost and within a reasonable time, and the price may be lower or higher than expected. During periods with limited liquidity on the market, the level of risk may therefore be higher than stated by the indicator.

Management risk: The fund is actively managed. The manager may take both long and short positions, use leverage and have a concentrated portfolio. In that situation, incorrect management decisions can have a substantial negative impact on the portfolio.
